OTHER REASONS PEOPLE SELL THEIR HOMES:

- Among all home sellers, 15% decided to sell their current home because it's too small.
- 15% of Sellers also sold their homes because of job relocation.
- The neighborhood became less desirable, a change in family situation, or that the home is too large were all primary reasons for selling for 10% of sellers.
- First time sellers sold because their current house was too small, for job relocation, and because the neighborhood became less desirable more than any other group of sellers.
- Repeat sellers sold to move closer to friends and family, because their home is too large, or for retirement at a higher rate than any other seller group.
